

List as many facts or things you know about the topic as you can in five minutes. Use brainstorming rules.

How would other people feel about this topic?
Given a specific audience convince others of your point of view.

Fluency

Flexibility

Originality

Elaboration

1. Think of a new point of view about the topic.
2. Name your point of view

3. What will it help us do or think?

4. Draw a symbol for your point of view or new idea:

Describe your point of view or new idea as if it were an advertisement or editorial on the Internet or in the newspaper. Give it a level of importance or priority.